On 9/11/2001, sometime after 9:30 a.m., while in his residence, Jeremy Logan Glick, who had been talking to him as Jeremy was flying in an airplane that had been hijacked. Jeremy had just told other airplane passengers were going to attempt to overtake the three hijackers, who were in the cockpit of the airplane. When got the telephone he only heard silence on the telephone, then three, four, or five minutes went by, and there were high pitched screaming noises coming over the telephone, that sounded like they were coming from a distance from the airplane telephone. described the noises as sounding similar to the screams coming from individuals riding a roller coaster. There was then several minutes of silence on the telephone. Then heard a series of high pitched screaming sounds again, followed by a noise which he described as "wind sounds." The "wind sounds" were followed by noises that sounded as though the airplane telephone was hitting a hard surface several times or banging around. Then there was silence on the telephone. During the screaming and other sounds that heard, a telephone operator from Horizon broke into the telephone call and relayed the information to police officials. was sure that the operator was from Horizon, not Verizon, and that there was a tape recording of the conversation. and the telephone operator stayed on the telephone for approximately 1½ hours, until approximately 10:45 a.m., but never heard any further noises on the telephone. The telephone call was then terminated.
